THAT the students whose names and faces appear within may have a basis for reminiscences, during the years to come, of the work they did and the friendships they made while at The Emory University Academy; that some sort of an idea may be formed of what their training was, may be obtained by any reader who may chance to peruse these pages:—that is the purpose of

THE EMACAD
TO

ROBERT LEE PAINE, A.B.

This, the fourth volume of our Year Book, is affectionately dedicated as a small return for his excellent work, and for his true friendship, on account of which he has made a close personal friend of every student in Emory University Academy.

FRANK MINGLEDORFF ZEAGLER, President,
Zeagler, Ga.

Few Literary Society; Vice-President Student Council; Bench Warrant Staff; President Senior Class; "B" Company; South Georgia Club.

When the conversation runs low, someone will always raise the question, Why is Frank Zeagler so popular? If we should attempt to answer, we might say that Frank is everybody's friend and a friend to everybody, which arises from a congeniality of nature that characterizes Frank.

JAMES BAKER PITNER, Vice-President,
Athens, Ga.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "C" Company Football and Basketball; North Georgia Club; Letter Men's Club; Bench Warrant Staff; Vice-President Senior Class; Emacad Staff.

"Jim", the oldest man in the class, so far as his attendance at E. U. A. is concerned, is another one of our athletes who after many hard knocks won his letter in football. "Jim" is longing for June, so he may return to dear old Athens, the home of pretty girls.

ARTEMUS COLEMAN ELLINGTON, Secretary,

Secretary Few Literary Society; Secretary Senior Class; Emacad Staff; Football, Basketball, Baseball and Track; "A" Company; North Georgia Club, Letter Men's Club.

"Artie" was one of "A" Company's halfbacks, and pretty playing it was too. Just let "Artie" get loose and nothing this side of the goal post could stop him. "Artie" is also among the top in scholarship.

CORLEY FRANKLIN NEASE, Treasurer,
Talbotton, Ga.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; P. K. Club; South Georgia Club; "A" Company Basketball; Glee Club; Treasurer Senior Class; Emacad Staff.

To "Frank" must go much of the credit and much appreciation of what we think of our annual. "Frank's" friendliness and ability—that's why the Emacad is a success.
VENIAMIN D. BLINOFF,
Kazan, Russia
Few Literary Society; "C" Company Football and Basketball Teams; Letter Men’s Club; Vice-President Cosmopolitan Club; Epworth League.
"Ben" is from far away Russia. In the two years he has been with us, he has made a host of friends because of his wit and personality.

HENRY HUBERT BOGGUS,
Vice-President Few Literary Society; North Georgia Club; Class Historian, Class Validictorian.
"Bog", as he is generally known, fills us sometimes with awe, sometimes with envy on account of his scholastic attainments. Besides being a splendid student, "Bog" is a fine boy, and we are quite sure his departure from E. U. A. will be our loss and Georgia Tech’s gain.

JAMES RICHARD BROWN,
Covington, Ga.
Phi Gamma Literary Society; "A" Company; North Georgia Club.
"Red" came into our midst since Christmas, but has shown us a thing or two. He lives in "Cov" and that alone would endear him to all of us, even tho he had no other attainments.

JOE GALLOWAY BUDD,
Phi Gamma Literary Society; Glee Club; P. K. Club; South Georgia Club; "A" Company Football and Basketball.
"Joe" is really one of nature’s best specimens. Not only is he a "he man" but a "Shiek" as well. It is Joe’s kind that makes the life of the student body. Yes, Joe is a blessing in disguise.
DANIEL CARMICHAEL,
McDonough, Ga.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; North Georgia Club; "C" Company. "Dan" has been accused of the crime of laziness but he makes one of the best all-round boys on the campus. "Dan" will live to a ripe old age and accomplish much—if he does not work himself to death.

CARMEN MOON WOODRUFF,
Walnut Grove, Ga.

Few Literary Society; President Co-Ed Club; Class Prophet; North Georgia Club; Epworth League.

We are proud that "Carmen" is a member of our class, for she is a credit wherever found. Always at ease and jolly, Carmen has helped to make the Class of '28 the best ever.

GEORGE LAMAR DANIELS,
Decatur, Ga.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "B" Company Football and Basketball; Atlanta Club.

George is somewhat of a "Sheik." It is well known that he keeps 'em guessing, and when it comes to tickling the piano, he has them all beat.

CLAUDE BARKER DAVID,
Calhoun, Ga.

Few Literary Society; North Georgia Club; "B" Company; Football and Basketball; Letter Men's Club; Member Student Council.

David is an "all-round" good fellow. You will find him anywhere from "B" Company's formidable tackle to a prominent part in any "Bull" session. During the two years he has spent at E. U. A. he has completed a round quite enviable.
JAMES ERNEST DEIFFENWIERTH,
Monticello, Fla.
Few Literary Society; "A" Company Football, Basketball and Baseball; Florida Club, Letter Men's Club.

From the "Land of Sunshine", much like his native environment—to know him is but to love him. Try as we may, we cannot find out what kind of "tonic" "Diff" uses on his hair.

EDWARD RABLEDO DUBOST,
Mexico City, Mex.

"Few Literary Society; "B" Company Fotoball and Basketball; Cosmopolitan Club.

"Chille Beans", you may not know it but you are going to make a great man some day in your chosen profession, "Engineering". But a word of advice, Chille,—Don't talk too loud, nor run for president.

HARVEY HENRY ELSBERRY,
Wimauma, Fla.

Few Literary Society; "B" Company Fotoball and Basketball; "Har-re-vy-y"! Whether it be but a match or the little weed! Of a generosity of nature that even "Squire" might envy. It is "Har-re-vy-y" who gives "D" Section an air of decorum that is noticeable.

SAMUEL CLARK EVANS, JR.,
Wadley, Ga.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "C" Company; Tennis Team.

"Mary" had a little lamb, etc., But Sam is really a fine fellow. Besides being the best cook in school, he is the established criterion for all E. U. A. painters. It is along this line that we look forward to the further prosperity and welfare of "Mary."
ALEXANDER PATRICIO FERNANDEZ,

Few Literary Society; "A" Company Basketball and Baseball; Cosmopolitan Club.
"Why did the ceiling fall?" "Ferdz" shakes a wicked leg! That is not his only accomplishment. He is one of our best in scholastic attainments and has a winning way of making and holding friends.

ELIZABETH CHRISTINE FLOYD,

Few Literary Society; South Georgia Club; Sec'y and Treas. of Co-ed Club; Emacad Staff.
"Elizabeth" is one of our charming "Co-eds." It is one with a charming personality such as hers that can meet handsome Emory boys day after day and still maintain an equilibrium.

CHARLES ARNOLD FORREST,

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "C" Company Football and Basketball; North Georgia Club; Business Manager Emacad.
It is in Football and business that "Charlie" wins our hearts. Forward passes and pretty "lasses" are one and the same to him. The secret of his success is a smile for everyone.

EDWARD HERBERT HILL,

Sylvania, Ga.

Few Literary Society; "A" Company Football; Sec'y and Treasurer South Georgia Club; Emacad Staff, Commencement Speaker.
Although this is "Ed's" first year at Emory, he has nevertheless made a splendid record, one to be envied by all. He has taken a prominent part in athletics, and has aided in many ways in making student activities a success. We predict a brilliant record for him at college.
JACK WEBSTER JERNIGAN,
Gainesville, Fla.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "C" Company Football and Basketball; Tennis; Swimming; Glee Club; Florida Club; Sec'y Student Council; Bench Warrant Staff; Emacad Staff.

"Jack" took an active part in all kinds of athletics and made a fine record in all. In addition to his athletic attainments, he is a leader in student activities and stands among the first in scholastic attainments.

JOHN NELSON LEMASTERS,
Atlanta, Ga.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "B" Football; Tennis; Letter Men's Club; North Georgia Club; Bench Warrant Staff; Emacad Staff.

"Lemasters" and "Forrest"! Do we see one without the other, or think of one without the other? On the Football field, in the class room, at the Dormitory—In fact where ever "Lem" is found, he stands as a "Letter Man", a "Man of Letters", and a "Man's Friend".

CLYDE PHILLIPS LAZENBY,
Charlotte, N. C.

Critic Phi Gamma Literary Society; "A" Company Basketball.

When we got "Clyde", we got a student, and well does he deserve the name. He is deliberate and conscientious in what he does, even at meals.

MARVIN MILLARD MANN,
St. Matthews, S. C.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "A" Company Football and Basketball; Tennis; Glee Club; Letter Men's Club; Carolina Club; Bench Warrant Staff.

"Gooffy" fills us with laughter, whenever he is around. He may well be called "Gooffy" but when it comes to Physics and asking intellectual (?) questions, he gets the "Cream". He is the Senior Class nightengale.
REED LERONDO McCONNELL,
Comer, Ga.
Few Literary Society; "C" Company Basketball and Baseball; Swimming; North Georgia Club.
"Mac" was the mainstay of "C" Company's Basketball team. When it seemed that things were all wrong, it was "Mac" who put "pep" into the players and saved his team from several ignomimous defeats. "Mac" is everybody's friend.

JOSEPH AUGUSTUS MIDDLEBROOKS,
Haddock, Ga.
Few Literary Society; "C" Company Basketball; Tennis and Swimming.
It is among the student body that "Middy" scores his touchdown. To attempt to tell why this is so is not within our power; we only know that the class of '28 finds him a creditable addition to their roll, and that he will be missed at E. U. A.

EARL MILLER,
Sylvania, Ga.
Few Literary Society; "B" Company Baseball; Tennis and Swimming; South Georgia Club.
"Drunk" well deserves his name, if every mortal did. For, although he is a bit "hazy" at times, he makes a true friend and companion. It is well understood that the cause of that "dizzy" feeling is from the rapidity with which letters arrive from a certain young "Miss".

JAMES MOBLEY,
Sylvania, Ga.
Phi Gamma Literary Society; "A" Company Football, Basketball, and Baseball; Letter Men's Club; Captain "A" Company's Basketball Team; South Georgia Club; Letter Men's Club.
"James", we think, is our best all round athlete. There are no forms of sport in which he does not participate and excels in all. We admire him for his genius and love him for his geniality.
EMMETT MADISON MORGAN,
Clyo, Ga.
Few Literary Society; "C" Company; South Georgia Club; Baseball.
Morgan is one of our "quiet" lads. But we must remember "Still water runs deep". We would not be surprised if we did not hear of Morgan again—Morgan in life—Morgan in memory.

ARNOLD PAUL MULKEY,
Millen, Ga.
Phi Gamma Literary Society; "A" Company; Tennis and Swimming; South Georgia Club.
Arnold is our debator. Neither are his subjects lofty or far-fetched. Very understandable. He says what he means and means what he says. We predict for "Mulk" success.

ROBERT NEWTON ODOM,
Newton, Ga.
Phi Gamma Literary Society; "A" Company; Tennis; South Georgia Club.
Newton must be heaven for "Colonel" came from there. Permit us to predict "Colonel's" desire to be seen and heard at all times points quite conclusively to a public career. Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

FRANCIS RAY PHELPS
Rentz, Ga.
Few Literary Society; "C" Company Basketball; South Georgia Club.
"Francis", "Ray" or "Whelps"; he answers to all of them. "Ray" with his golden locks and charming profile, is the best "water power" in the dining hall. "Ray" is a friend, indeed, and will always meet you more than half way.
Cecil Randolph Phillips,
Morehaven, Fla.

Few Literary Society "B" Company Football and Baseball; Letter Men's Club; Florida Club; Student Council; Bench Warrant Staff.
"Cy", we think, is one of the best all round fellows on the campus. If you don't like "Cy" it is because you haven't known him long. And "Cy" is not unpopular with the ladies either.

Joseph Dascomb Potts,
Gainesville, Fla.

Few Literary Society; "B" Company Basketball; Tennis; Florida Club; Commencement Speaker.
Altho "Joseph" hasn't a coat of many colors, he shines in other ways. If you want your "Trig" worked, or your French translated, there's your man. And Joseph takes an interest in his Literary Society—in fact, he is one of our outstanding speakers.

Ernest Coleman Sanders,
Damascus, Ga.

Phi Gamma Literary Society; "B" Company Football, Basketball and Baseball; South Georgia Club.
During Football Season, "Sandy" played hard and steady and above all—consistent. In Basketball, he was one of "B's" outstanding players. On the courts and off, he was a friend to all. At E. U. A. he has formed a host of friends who will regret his departure at the end of the year.

Rembert Autrelle Vincent,
Fairmount, Ga.

Few Literary Society; "B" Company; Secretary Ministerial Club; North Georgia Club.
"Hop" has chosen preaching for his life work. Kind and obliging at all times, he wins the hearts of all. Just watch and wait. "Hop" will be heard from.
DOSTER VINCENT,
Woodland, Ga.

"C" Company Football, Basketball and Baseball; Tennis, Track; South Georgia Club.

If ever you wake up in the middle of the night and hear some weird sound like a young pup in distress, it's "Doster". Besides this remarkable accomplishment, he has mastered the art of making you laugh whether you wish to or not. Jolly and merry at all times—it is such as he that breaks the monotony of school life and makes living in a "Prep School" worth while.

ROBERT LINDSAY WALKER,
Warthen, Ga.

Few Literary Society; "C" Company Football, Basketball and Baseball; Tennis; Swimming; Track. South Georgia Club; Epworth League.

Since "Lindsay" entered school he has gone out for all athletics. He played Football well and a regular "shark" in Basketball. "Lindsay" is a pal ready to help at all times.

WILLIAM RUPERT WEEMS,
Songo, Korea

"B" Company Basketball and Baseball; Epworth League; Cosmopolitan Club; Class Salutatory.

"Colonel" is "Goofy's" only rival in Physics. He did not go out for the major sports but has applied himself to his studies, making a name for himself and a reputation for class '28.

ISAAC WILLIAM WHEELESS,
Williamson, Ga.

Few Literary Society; "C" Company Football, Basketball and Baseball; Letter Men's Club. North Georgia Club; Epworth League.

In Football, "Isaac" was a hard tackler fighting long and never giving up. In Basketball, he seemed to be in the right place just at the right time. Isaac is a hard student, and if he tackles the problems of life, as his disposition indicates, his career should be brilliant.
WILLIAM TURNER WOOLBRIGHT,
Boynton, Fla.
Phi Gamma Literary Society; "B" Company Football, Basketball and Baseball; Letter Men's Club; President Florida Club; Emacad Staff.
"Salesman Sam" was "B's" plunging full back. There were few obstacles he was not able to overcome, either by force, "dry wit", or personality. If Sam makes his goals out in life as he does in Football, he will score many touchdowns. Success to you "Sam."

ROBERT HUDSON DELAINE WYLEY,
Atlanta, Ga.
Phi Gamma Literary Society; Captain "C" Company Basketball; Secretary and Treasurer Gate City Club; North Georgia Club.
"Bob" hurt his shoulder in Basketball at the beginning of the season, and altho he was out the rest of the season, he will not be out of the game of life, for he is a true friend and companion.
Senior Class History

We, a large group of very green boys and girls, came to Emory University Academy in the fall of 1924. There were in this group rich boys and poor boys, city boys and country boys. There were boys from Cuba, from Costa Rica and from many other parts of the world, and girls from Oxford. We had a hard time in the first year English and Latin classes under Professor Carlton who called us everything from dumb bells to blockheads, and who also said we were the cause of his hair turning grey.

As Sophomores, we struggled and tore our hair over Dr. McCoy’s Caesar. As Juniors, we worked hard and had little to say.

Now we are Seniors with very dignified looks. We look back over the past four years, not at all with regret, but with something like pleasure, because we have met and overcome so many obstacles. During the course of time we have lost some of our number but we have added on new ones as good as, if not better than, those we lost.

Our class has plenty of merits. There are high grades in abundance, although we have not tried to put anyone’s eyes out with our brilliance. Many in the class have made progress along the moral side of life in spite of obstacles. Others have been successful in love affairs. We pride ourselves in our athletes, for the best athletes in school are among our number. In general we pride ourselves in the fact that we have progressed mentally, morally and physically.

We come to the close of the year with hearts a bit saddened with the thought of leaving E. U. A., but we are happy too, to know that we have completed our High School career and are ready for College.

Here closes the History of the Class of ’28.

Hubert Boggus,
Class Historian.
The Hon. Benton Odom,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Colonel:

I have just returned from an extensive trip, made possible by my inheriting some money from my aunt's estate. As I saw all my classmates except you, I'm writing you what I found each one doing. My cat, Melissa, accompanied me on my trip.

First of all, I visited Oxford, a very changed old Oxford from the one we once knew. It is now the seat of a big University called the University of the World. It has bought out Porterdale's entire output of aeroplane wings, for each student is furnished an aeroplane. Whom should I find as the President of this great University but Autrelle Vincent, my old classmate? I went up on their large landing field (built from the top of the gymnasium to the top of the chapel); and there I found Madison Morgan, Hubert Boggus, and Artemus Ellington, who had studied aviation in Germany, instructing the young students how to fly kites and how to shoot a "prof" from a plane.

Morgan invited me to have a ride in his plane, and we visited the nearby farm of Joe Budd and Ed Hill. They are partners in a big garlic and onion farm. We found them extracting the juices from these sweet-smelling vegetables to pour into the sleepy eyes of the congregation while the Oxford pastor, Brother Robert Wyley preaches to them in the old church.

Vincent kindly offered to carry me to Gainesville, Ga., in his private yacht; you know they have dug a canal from Covington to Gainesville. How I enjoyed the beautiful mountain scenery! To add to my pleasure, I found John Lemasters and Charles Forrest teaching at Riverside. I hardly knew them, they were so changed. Lemasters is a large pompous man, weighing two hundred and fifty pounds, and Forrest is entirely bald-headed.

I wanted to tour through the North Georgia mountains, and Lemasters recommended Joe Stewart and Ed Linn as my guides. Each came up smiling, with an apple in his mouth, and dressed in a little green uniform and cap. I hated very much to leave my classmates after an extremely pleasant tour through the mountains, but I had already planned to go on to New York.
The Emacad, 1928

When I arrived there, I felt like a stranger in a strange land, until I met, by chance, Elizabeth Floyd, who is now a famous movie star (Pola the second), with C. B. David as her director.

I, then, took a boat from New York for a tour of Europe, and to my surprise I found Dan Carmichael the Captain of the boat.

I first visited the classic halls of Oxford, England, little thinking that I would meet any of my acquaintances. In a coffee house, I found Joseph Potts, Earl Miller, and Phelps, who were doing post-graduate at Oxford.

My next stop was Paris, but I didn’t enjoy my aeroplane trip very much, because the sky was rough and the clouds were choppy. When I reached Paris, I decided to have my face lifted and asked someone to direct me to a good beauty parlor. Imagine my surprise when I found Sam Evans and Arnold Mulkey to be the owners of this exclusive shop! They performed such a wonderful operation on my face, I looked (and felt) like a young girl again.

One day I ran across Lerondo McConnell and I was delighted to accept an invitation from him to see the night life of Paris. This proved to be one of the most thrilling experiences I had.

I went to the seashore in France, and this was the saddest part of my journey; for there in invalid chairs, I found James Diffenwierth and James Mobly, who were such great athletes at E. U. A. They had been hurt in an automobile wreck.

I turned away from this depressing scene and went to Monte Carlo. There I saw George Daniels and Cecil Phillips. I was so interested in the games that I forgot all about my cat, Melissa; and I feared that she would never recover from the neglect received there. I sent Daniels out for a “vet” and whom should he bring in but Dr. Doster Vicent? He gave her a hypodermic of rodent juice. My mind was greatly relieved, because I had so much confidence in Doster’s ability.

I rode a donkey across the mountains to Spain. I wanted to see everything there that was to be seen, so I went to a bull-fight. My interest was increased when I saw that Alexander Fernandez and Edward Dubost were two of the toreadors.

I went next to far away Russia, and an old man with hoary hair came toward me. He had a long stick in his hand, and his face was covered with long white hair. He came up to me and offered me a Bible; then I recognized Ben Blinoff.

From Russia to India was a long journey but quickly traveled. Soon after reaching that country I saw three peddlers in the distance. They were dressed in rags and looked almost starved to death. They came up to me and asked me to buy from the packs on their backs, and hoping to make their burdens lighter, I bought a bird cage, a paper of pins and a mouse trap. Not until they had left did I find out that the peddlers were Frank Zeagler, Jack Jernigan, and Franklin Nease. How sorry I was that I had not recognized them.

I then went to Japan, and there, trying to convert the heathen, I found Harvey Elsbery, Marvin Mann, and William Weems. I'm afraid they have not succeeded very well, because I learned from Richard Brown that the heathen didn't have much faith in them. Brown also was a fisherman, not of souls, but of sales.

After these experiences in the Orient, I returned to my native country by way of Florida. I landed at Miami. The pineapple fields in bloom were a beautiful sight. To add to the beauty were the tall and stately figures of Turner Woolbright and Ernest Sanders, carrying large baskets of pineapples on their heads. Turner, Jr., was dutifully helping his father.

On my way home, I passed through Haddock, Ga., and there I found Joseph Middlebrooks running a grocery store. Sitting on the porch of the store I saw Phillip Lazenby, smoking a long, corn cob pipe, swapping yarns with Middlebrooks. They gave me a basketful of groceries, for by this time I had spent all my money.

I didn't even have carfare, so I started trudging along the dusty road to Hickory. W. E. Brigham and Isaac Wheless overtook me. Very luckily for me, they recognized me. As they were travelling salesmen and were going straight through to Hickory, they asked me to go with them in their 1928 Ford.

Footsore and weary we at last reached home. I never expect to leave old Hickory again as long as I live.

After travelling all around the world, seeing all kinds of men, and not wanting to die an old maid, I am now willing to accept your offer that you made the night of the Junior-Senior banquet at E. U. A. in 1928.

SOCIAL LIFE AT E. U. A.

September 3—The first Saturday night of school the Woman's Club gave a reception to the Faculty and Student Body of Emory University Academy. Mr. Branham gave a welcome address to the new boys. The boys from far away countries gave a little "skit" under the direction of Mrs. Brown.

September 17.—Student Body is entertained by the faculty.

September 15—Epworth League is entertained at the home of Mrs. Weldon. All were carried back to childhood by playing "spin the pan", "ring around the roses", "drop the handkerchief", and "winks". Refreshments were red lemonade and ginger snaps.

October 29.—The main social event of the year was a Halloween party, given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Dempsey, by the Woman's Club. The Dempsey's lovely home was beautifully decorated with halloween colors and a perfusion of pumpkins, witches, spooks and ghosts. Delightful refreshments were served as the evening drew to a close.

November 12—League Social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Floyd.

December 2—Mrs. Budd gave a buffet supper to the Bereans.

December 15.—Santa Claus visits E. U. A.

December 1.—Homeward bound for Christmas.

January 4.—School opens with several additions to the student body.

January 7.—The Rich Grand Theatre opens.

January 28.—"Strong Heart" gives a most interesting and instructive lecture about Indians. The proceeds went to the endowment for Emory Junior College.

February 4.—The Georgia Railroad Band & Orchestra gave a concert at the Covington Auditorium for the benefit of the Junior College endowment fund.

February 13.—Epworth League Social at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Rees. The living room was beautifully decorated with valentines. Delightful refreshments were served.

February 15.—"A" Company wins the championship in basketball after defeating "C" Company.

March 1.—Examinations for the Winter Term begins.

May 5.—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Floyd entertained for their daughter, Elizabeth, at their home on Emory Street, at a buffet supper in honor of the Senior Class. Besides the delightful supper, "proms" and other entertaining features of the evening were enjoyed by all present.

May 12.—Mrs. May Woodruff gave a Senior Prom, at the home of Mrs. C. M. Sheriff, in honor of her daughter, Carmen. Delightful refreshments were served between the Proms.

May 27.—Commencement Sunday.

May 28.—The Class of '28 receives their sheep-skins.

James Mobley
Weight 147, Height 5' 6"
Half Back, Co. "A"

Much credit is due Mobley for his splendid work in the backfield of Company "A". Although this was his first year of football, he played the game like a veteran. He is to be highly commended for his excellent playing.

Marvin Mann
Weight 140, Height 5' 10"
Center Co. "A"

Marvin's work at center has been very fine. On the offensive his passes were always good and on the defensive he was in every play. He was a hard fighter and never gave up.

James Summerford
Weight 166, Height 5' 10"
Tackle, Co. "A"

"Jim" is not so graceful or dainty on the football field as some. He didn't mind hitting the ground and when he did hit it someone else did also. It took a good man to keep "Jim" out of the play. He was always waiting to grab the man who came through the line.

James Pitner
Weight 141, Height 5' 8"
Quarter, Co. "C"

Whether it be spoken of as nerve, grit, internal ingredients of the abdominal cavity, or just plain "guts," Jim Pitner has it. For four long, lean years he stuck by "C" Company through thick, but mostly thin. And then, when "C" developed a team of championship caliber, it was Jim's luck to sustain a broken shoulder in the initial fray. But he came back to the extent of making a thirty-five-yard run against "B" in the last game of his career.

Turner Woolbright
Weight 164, Height 5' 11"
Full Back, Co. "B"

Turner was always on the job when it came his time to carry the ball, and carry it he did. He could be depended on to gain. The success of Company "B" during the past season was due in large part to his excellent playing.
John Lemasters
Weight 121, Height 6' 1"
End, Co. "B"

Here we have as fine a fellow and as good an end as ever played on Weber field. Very seldom was a gain made around his end and he could get under punts with incredible speed. If you were figuring on making a yard or two, it wasn’t sane to try it near him.

C. B. David
Weight 154, Height 5' 10"
Tackle, Co. "B"

Here we have another of the Academy’s hardest fighters, the player that fought from start to finish and got into every play with the grit and determination to do or die. A good all-round player and we wish him luck.

Joe Stewart
Weight 114, Height 5' 8"
End, Co. "B"

Joe is little but loud and a fast and hard hitting end. Dumping the interference of the opposing team was his delight and he did it well. Joe was also good at catching passes, being somewhat of a contortionest. He was the only man to score against "C" Company this season.

William Bargeron
Weight 135, Height 5' 6"
Half Back, Co. "C"

"Billy" was the sensation of the football season at the Academy this year. He won several games by his brilliant playing. "Billy" was one of the hardest men in school to tackle, it usually taking more than one man to bring him down. He also had the honor of being captain of "C" Company and deserves the honor from his team mates. We are looking for great things from him in the future.

Roy Bowen
Weight 154, Height 5' 1"
Full Back, Co. "C"

"Roy" was the best line plunger in the Academy. He seldom got away for any long sensational runs but he was consistent in his gains which went a long way toward winning the championship for his team. He will be back next year and we are expecting great things of him.
Edward Linn
Weight 161, Height 5' 9"
Center, Co. "C"

"Ed" could hit the bullseye every time with his passes from center. Always he fought and in backing up the line it was hard to find his equal. He was also a good backfield man, playing that position like he knew what he was doing. His plunges through the line netted much yardage.

Isaac Wheeless
Weight 156, Height 5' 8"
Tackle, Co. "C"

The line has never been made that this big boy can't go through. Not only does he go through but he gets what he goes after. Isaac's progress is an example of what a man can do when he tries. We are sure he will make some college a good tackle.

Judson Musselwhite
Weight 149, Height 5' 8"
Guard, Co. "C"

"Judson" was an almost perfect defensive worker. He seemed to be everywhere on the field at the same time. The "C" Company team should be proud of him for he was able to hold his position as well as any. He is good enough for any college team and we are looking forward to his success.

The 1927 Football Season

Under the excellent coaching of Profs. Williams, Brown, and Carlton, the football season has been the best the Academy has ever seen. Due to Prof. Dickey's open criticism, the teams worked harder than ever before.

The first game of the season was played between "A" and "C" Companies. Although Squire's men fought valiantly they could not stop the successive line plunges of Williams' backfield men. The final whistle found "C" 26, "A" 0.

The next week found "B" matched against "C." The Brownies were much stronger than "A." The game was hard fought all the way through. However "C" put over two touchdowns. The game ended with the score 13 to 0 in "C" favor.
"A" and "B" clashed the following week. The "A" squad was much stronger than in the previous game. This was due to Squire's coaching, and more practice. Nevertheless "B" proved their superiority by a score of 12 to 0.

The second game between "A" and "C" was a great surprise to the student body. "C"'s backfield ran wild while the line held like a stone wall. "A" was handicapped for they were playing their men in new positions. The score at the end of the game stood "C" 38, "A" 0.

The week following "C" played "B". The Brownies came on the field with fight in their eyes, and fight they did. Neither team was able to gain much ground. However, after repeated efforts, "C" put the pigskin across "B"'s goal line. They then bucked the ball over for the extra point, thereby winning their second game from "B".

The sixth game of the season was hard fought between "A" and "B". It started with a rush. Both teams felt confident of winning. "B" scored 7 points in the first quarter. In the second quarter "A" came back and John Baxter made a 35 yard run for a touchdown. They failed in the try for the extra point. The game ended 7 to 6 in "B"'s favor, neither team being able to score in the second half.

The next game on schedule was between Mello's and Squire's well drilled teams. This proved to be the best game of the season. "A" fought like demons and held "C" for downs repeatedly. In the third quarter, Bargeron, after repeated off-tackle smashes and center bucks, put the ball over for the only touchdown of the game, thereby clinching the championship for his team.

Next came the game between "B" and the champions. This game proved an easy victory for Mello's boys. Every man in the "C" backfield scored a touchdown. The final score was "C" 26, "B" 6. Joe Stewart, "B"'s star end, scored their only touchdown for the game and their only one against "C" for the entire season.

The game that closed the gird season was played between "A" and "B". Howell's end runs and Mobley's fine playing gave "A" the game by a score of 6 to 0. It seemed as if "A" played inspired ball. Several times they were in sight of the goal but always they were held by "B"'s forward wall.

All the teams deserve much credit for their fine sportsmanship and excellent playing.

THE EMACAD, 1928

THE 1928 BASKETBALL SEASON

Those who have been on the old College Campus long enough to have become localized profess that the Academy has just finished the most successful basketball season of its history. Probably no prep school in the South can boast of a larger percentage of its students participating in Athletics. With about 135 boys enrolled at present, around 65 have been active members of one of the nine basketball teams.

Neither is the quality of the teams to be scoffed at. The first team of either Company might furnish interesting competition in an ordinary high school or prep tournament.

A resume of the season's events shows that "A" Company was able to produce the best first-team aggregation, while "C" seemed to have the greatest number of players with mediocre ability.

Following is the number of games won and lost by each of the nine teams, with the number of points won toward the Athletic Championship.

FIRST TEAM "A" CHAMPS
B—Won 2. Lost 1. Points 50.
C—Won 3. Lost 5. Points 75.

SECOND TEAM "C" CHAMPS

THE SUPREME KINGDOM

Wants to give a hearty greeting to all the boys who read this advertisement. We have taken the space because we are interested in "Boys"—they soon become "Men." and "Men" and "Women" is all that is worth while in any nation. Some boy who reads this may become President of the United States—that's another reason why we are interested in "Boys."

Emory University Academy

LOCATION—Emory University Academy is located at Oxford, Ga., a most beautiful little town with city conveniences but without city distractions.

EQUIPMENT—Twelve splendid brick buildings on a campus of forty acres—the plant formerly occupied by Emory College now a part of Emory University. This is the best plant to be found among the preparatory schools of the South and is superior to many of the college plants.

FACULTY—Ten men and four women, all college and university trained, constitute the faculty. This faculty far surpasses many of the faculties of the colleges of the South.

COURSE OF STUDY—The course of study prepares graduates for entrance into any of the standard colleges or universities which admit by certificate. The school is a member of the Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges of the Southern States.

HOME LIFE—Two large dormitories steam-heated, electrically lighted and supplied with hot and cold water in every room and with modern convenience in every section furnish ample room for all the boys. Teachers and pupils live in the same buildings.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION—Our course in Physical Education, gymnasium and athletic system, furnishing sports in football, basketball, baseball, tennis and track, provide such physical training as the growing boy needs.

SWIMMING POOL—A modern indoor swimming pool, heated for all year round use.

THE COST—For such splendid advantages the charges at Emory University Academy are just about half the amount charged by many other schools where the equipment is less and the advantages not so good.

AIM—The aim of Emory University Academy is to turn out young men strong physically, mentally and spiritually.
