Foreword

If in some distant time these pages will unlock the door of memory and revive the old spirit of "Oxford," our accomplishment will have been a worthwhile one. Our ambition in editing this volume is to recall in future years the joys experienced, tasks accomplished, and hopes fulfilled. We sincerely hope that this volume will not only bring pleasure in its perusal today, but that it will renew in the years to come the happy days of college at old Emory.
Dedication

In loving appreciation of the services of Mrs. Janie Belle Smith who as librarian of this institution has carefully and capably attended to our wants and needs, we respectfully dedicate this volume of Memory.

Alma Mater

In the heart of dear old Dixie,
Where the sun doth shine,
There is where our hearts are turning
'Round old Emory's shrine.

We will ever sing thy praises,
Loyal sons and true.
Hail thee now, our Alma Mater.
Hail the gold and blue.

Though the years around thee gather,
Crowned with love and cheer,
Still the memories of old Emory
Grow to us more dear.

We will ever sing thy praises,
Loyal sons and true.
Hail thee now, our Alma Mater.
Hail the gold and blue.

My Emory Co-ed

TAKE my heart in my hand
And throw it at your feet,
Your eyes as stars of twilight fair,
Your face reflecting Heav’n so sweet.

My Emory Co-ed is my sweetheart,
And she’s the best I know.
Her sunny smile haunts me all the while;
Its brightness banishes woe.
A glance from her eyes is paradise;
She speaks, and sorrows depart;
A friend to me,
A pal is she,
She’s my sweetheart,
My Emory Co-ed.

Words—Virgil Y. C. Eady.

Miss Lewis: Why was the Dean flipping that coin all period?
Fat Field: He lost the answers to his true and false exam and had to make out new ones.

Allgood: Have you a watch to time me while I run this mile, Prof?
Jackson: If you don't do it any faster than you usually do a calendar is what you need.

Cooper: I kissed Big Six on the chin last night.
Cook: What did she say?
Cooper: Heavens above.

Judge Logan to roommate: If I'm studying when you get back, wake me up.

WHAT MAKES A UNIVERSITY?

_What makes a University?_ Calling a group of buildings a University doesn't make it a University.

A University must have money, men, ideals, and standards. Money for buildings, equipment and operating expenses. Scholarly men — men whose love of learning is animated by an even greater love of God and man — for a faculty. Ideals of character and conduct which tend to develop the higher and nobler side of the student's nature. Standards of training which insure that its students will receive what a University purports to give: instruction of the quality accepted and approved by the highest accrediting agencies.

YOU CAN GET BUT ONE COLLEGE EDUCATION. BE SURE THAT IT IS ONE WHICH WILL STAND THE TEST OF TIME.
