The MEMORY
Presented by
THE STUDENTS OF
EMORY-AT-OXFORD
OXFORD, GEORGIA
It has been the purpose of the editors to portray in this volume the student activities and the student life on the Emory-at-Oxford Campus during the year of 1936-1937. We have presented a reminder of the past year with its activities, and of the friendships that we have formed here, and it is our sincere hope that the Memory will serve in the future as a pleasant reminder of your college days.

This charming little maiden is the daughter of one of our most beloved professors, Melvin R. Ellington, and we express our sincere wishes for her future life that is so beautifully surrounded by the old traditional Emory Campus.
DEDICATION

This edition of Memory is dedicated to our Dean, George S. Roach, who has made our school year beneficial by giving to us the facilities for living the four-fold life, the Spiritual, Physical, Educational, and Social.

THE GLEE CLUB has just finished its eighth season under the direction of Prof. Eady. This club, more than any other campus organization, provides instructive, amusing, and cultural advantages in the presentation of worthy attractions and self-managed musical events.

This year the Glee Club has made many interesting trips to distant towns where they presented either secular or religious programs.

One of the main events of the school year was the Glee Club banquet given in Haygood Hall during the month of May at which officers for the next year were elected and charm members announced.
JUNIOR STEWARDS OF ALLEN MEMORIAL

ORCHESTRA
PAN-AMERICAN CLUB

The Pan-American Club was formed to gather the foreign boys in a group and make them feel more at home in their environment, and to enable them to overcome social barriers. Also to give the campus an introduction to certain foreign sports.

FLORIDA CLUB

The Florida Club was newly organized this year. Its purpose was to better acquaint the members with one another and to provide social functions for its members during the school year.
Phi Gamma Literary Society was organized in the Spring of 1837 by a few aspiring students who wished to create a place of leisure and study, and an organization for acquainting the members of the society with current events through discussions.

Phi Gamma has produced illustrious sons in the past, among these being Bishops W. A. Candler and A. G. Haygood, L. Q. C. Lamar, Justice of the United States Supreme Court. We hope that in the future the names of some of the present members shall be included in such a list as this.

Few Literary Society

Few Literary Society was organized in 1839 by a group of boys who saw the desirability of having such a society on the Emory Campus. The purpose of the society was to further interest in debating and public speaking. Many great and illustrious men have answered to its roll call.

Few Literary Society plays an important role in developing the ability of its members. Several very interesting debates between Few and Phi Gamma were held during the past year.

After a slow start, "A" Company went on to earn a place in the spotlight as co-champions of football, sharing this honor with "C" Company. A hard driving line, combined with a brilliant backfield, composed of Blue, Tucker, Henry and Philips turned the trick. Outstanding linemen were Lewis, Snelling, Morrison and Nichols. The features of "A" Company's attack were the passing of Blue, the drive of Henry and the speed of Philips.

The team as a whole gained over 600 yards during the season. Philips led with 169 yards; Blue with 166 yards; and Henry with 100 yards.

Too much praise cannot be given these men who "rode to glory" after having seemingly been out of the race.

"A" COMPANY BASKETBALL

CHAMPIONS
"A" Company seems to have established somewhat of a tradition at winning championships. This year the title again went to Coach Carlton's boys after an undefeated season. Superb offensive and defensive play plus a fine spirit of co-operation made "A" Company's team what it was.

Led by Ed Tucker and John Black, who scored 91 and 82 points, respectively, the team made a total of 366 points.

Second team finished in a tie for first place with "C" Company's second team. Bramblett, Pirkle, and Stone were outstanding players.

"B" Company did not have the material and experienced men to form a team of championship calibre. They did rise to the heights at one time during the season, and handed "A" Company its only setback. The "B" Company standard-bearers were also handicapped greatly by injuries to key players during the season. In spite of these adverse circumstances, Coach Jackson always had a fighting team on the field, and he, as well as the boys, deserved a great deal of praise for this.

The team total in yards gained was around four hundred (400), with Haines, Nipper, Mozley and Roach doing most of the ball lugging. Besides these men, Clark, Belcher, Anderson and Crews were outstanding players.

While their season was not a success, "B" Company deserves much credit for the fighting spirit and co-operation shown by the players on the field.

“B” COMPANY BASKETBALL

“B” Company’s basketball team was at all times full of determination and fight. The team finished in a tie with “C” Company for second place. Featuring a good defensive play, the team was at all times a threat. Bill Branham, who scored 65 points, “Snake” Ellis, with 34, and “Bud” Holt with 39 points were three of the most outstanding players.

The second team was a victim of lack of size and experienced men, but Coach Jackson managed at all times to put a well-drilled team on the court. Bill Turney, “Dub” Ellis, John Stewart, who also played well with the first team, and Senor Morales were colorful stars.

CO-CHAMPIONS

"C" Company, in sharing the championship with "A" Company, took honors in football for the first time in several seasons. The team was at all times a smooth-working machine, with Captain Goode doing a fine job of quarterbacking. Their playing was featured by a strong line and a dangerous backfield. Goode, Dyal, and McAndrews were constant threats during the season. In the line Harris, Brice, Callaway, E., Stark, Caldwell, W., and Smith at all times played hard clean football.

The team led in yardage gained, having a total of well over six hundred yards. Captain Goode led the team and school in individual yardage gained, having a total of three hundred and thirty-nine yards. Dyal and McCracken followed Goode as the other leading ground-gainers.

The team as a whole, although hampered by injuries, functioned excellently at all times, and should be praised highly for their achievements.

“C” COMPANY BASKETBALL

"C" Company, sharing second honors with "B" Company, had in every game a well-coached team on the court. The spirit ran high at all times, and much co-operation was shown by the team.

Dan McCartney and Bill Goode led the team in points scored with 49 and 40 points, respectively. Weston Caldwell and Jordan were also outstanding players.

The second team, which finished in a first-place tie with "A" Company's second team, played fine basketball throughout the season. Reid Willcox, Ben McAndrew, Howard McCracken and Mickey Dyal led the team in individual playing.

TEENNS

The tennis program is probably the most extensive one of the athletic programs on the Campus. Five new tennis courts have been constructed by school authorities because of the interest shown in this sport.

Regular tournaments are held each spring and fall. Tucker, Quick, McCartney, Jordan and Bramblett are some of the outstanding players this year.

TRACK

The interest and competition in the field and track meets held on the Campus always run unusually high.

Last year "C" Company won the only all-company meet and their prospects for this year are exceptionally good. The only other meet held was during the annual Junior College week-end. Emory University sponsors this and all the branches of Emory participate. Last year Emory-at-Oxford came second in the meet. This year's prospects are very bright, and Oxford should do better.

Some of the outstanding track men are: Nipper, Lewis, Caldwell, W., Caldwell, C., Mozley, and Goode.

FENCING

Fencing is a new sport added only this year to the physical education program. It, together with swimming, is under the direction of Prof. Brooke. Much interest was shown in fencing, and it should soon prove to be one of the most popular sports.

SWIMMING

For the first time in several years Emory-at-Oxford appeared with a formidable swimming team. Under the direction of Prof. Brooke the swimming squad enjoyed a very successful season. In addition to the intra-company meet, there was a swimming meet on the Emory Campus in Atlanta.

BASEBALL

"C" Company took all the honors in baseball last year. The champions lost only one game during the season. Led by John Lewis, "Strike-out King," the "C" Company boys took the championship easily. The competitive spirit runs high in baseball on the Campus, and the game has proven itself to be one of the most popular sports included in the athletic program.

In addition to the inter-mural games, there are games played in Atlanta with other Emory divisions.
