THE 1958 MEMORY
EMORY-at-OXFORD
OXFORD, GEORGIA
To the students of E A O:

The 1958 MEMORY presents a panorama of life at Emory at Oxford. The people who have lived, learned, and taught within her walls; the trials through which she has passed; and the triumphs to which she has risen have each added in some way to her culture. Each year has joined the preceding ones and contributed its part to Oxford's fund of wisdom. Thus, they have molded and tempered her into the Oxford of today.

Here are the events and the people which have shaped this year. Here for the record is Emory at Oxford, 1958.

Sincerely,

Jean Daughtry

Jean Daughtry, Editor
DEDICATION

On the Emory at Oxford campus there are two people who have merited the name "friends" from the faculty and students. They are a perfect example of a Christian family. They are always willing to help a student who needs them.

Because of this, we do humbly and sincerely dedicate the 1958 MEMORY to...

What Is A University?

It is more than a collection of books; it is a meeting place for the wisdom of the learned and the enthusiasm of the young. From this meeting place—from the laboratory and the playing field, from the classroom and the dormitory—it radiates its influence, not only into the community of which it is a part, but into the everyday lives of all who call it Alma Mater.
