To capture and record two years in the lives of 400 people, via 120 pages of words and pictures, is a difficult if not impossible task. So we present our finished product, the 1963 to the sophomores in the hope that this book will have captured spirit and good times in part, and will, in future years, cause a quiet hour of nostalgia.
Wed., Sept. 19—Rat Week just isn’t same any more without the red Dodge Dart from Covington cruising around campus. And she was such a nice girl.

Thurs., Sept. 20—Sophs arrive much to the chagrin of already nervous Rats. Ratting cut down to minimum because of parental complaints. Sophs don’t mistreat—just misuse.

Sat., Sept. 22—Rat Day begins bright and early as usual. Too early for some. Several Sophs decide to sleep late and avoid the mess. Maybe Friday night was too much for them. Rat Dance that night ends Rat Week, and also generates new love interests.

Sun., Sept. 23—I slept late today.

Mon., Sept. 24—Jack Portner decides he may as well go ahead and register, as long as he’s here.

Tues., Sept. 25—Laughter can do strange things to a person. One fine example is Margaret Tarver. What was that mess on her floor?

"John, I don't think you'll fit."

Sat., Sept. 15—Ken Musgrove gets the usually early start in snowing all the freshmen girls. First victim: Lynn Matthews. T.J. has date with Mac, and now lives in fear that I will find out. Gordon does same with Billy R., and begins to sweat as yours starts to snoop around.

Sun., Sept. 16—New freshmen arrive! And I start scouting for new girls. Sue Bennett looks mighty cute.

Mon., Sept. 17—Official orientation begins. Administration fails to realize this has already started, in more ways than one!

Fri., Sept. 28—And what's the other one's name, Bonnie?

Sat., Sept. 29—Annual words—Under the guiding hand and charismatic leadership of one Burton Reifler, a "chosen few" were called forth from the various dorms for the purpose of preserving the actions and antics of EAO in a literary fashion.

Sun., Sept. 30—Fall has begun, but in D section it's still Spring. Rita Mc. and Jan R. announce their engagements (not to each other of course)

Mon., Oct. 1—D section girls get flush lessons. Snow so early? Just look at Annette Brown. I heard the end of a conversation—I should have heard more! Evelyn Coulter told Tommy Coker that she likes tails.

Tues., Oct. 2—Ask Mickey Harden who asked him for a date in the library tonight. I know!

Wed., Oct. 3—Lights burn bright and late, as new 4 yr. program wishes they hadn't inherited Mr. Stevens.

Segregation.

Thurs., Oct. 4—Chapel was excellent, I slept. Mr. Chung gives bold insight as to "natural music."

Fri., Oct. 5—"Mr. Cool" breaks tradition and dates Oxford girl, even though he has to break another date with an "Agnus Scott girls don't care."

Sat., Oct. 6—Panic grips Haygood when fire in the dining room is announced. Seems it was a false alarm. Mrs. Shannon was encouraged by the fact that a few girls remembered what to do. IDC (organization composed of one deaf, dumb, and blind representative from each dorm) held successful dance. Campus hero—Kelly Gunnells leads group who recovered my crypt from "E." I really appreciated this, as Oxford is my home.

Sun., Oct. 7—Donna Thomas has been locked in the infirmary all weekend. Hope she enjoyed her visit with Sally Sue.

Mon., Oct. 8—Kathy Dell decides she'll stop breathing. Those with a bit of nursing in them take over.
Of course, they're just at the awkward age—

Tues., Oct. 9—Several EAO boys sat in awe tonight at the sight of six or seven girls filing out of A section door attired in raincoats and hairpins. Hope they found what they were looking for.

Wed., Oct. 10—Sally Musgrove made noisy fall down stairs of library tonight. She certainly made a scene.

Fri., Oct. 12—The “Little General” and Louisa noticed around campus with the “in love look” in eyes!

Sat., Oct. 13—I spent a quiet weekend with Mrs. Dooley.

Sun., Oct. 14—Penny Bromberg is heard shouting “the Christians are coming” at 12 noon.

Mon., Oct. 15—Everyone’s sleep in chapel was disturbed today by a ringing alarm clock not to mention the aerial alert against the pigeons. But the speaker was more embarrassed when, being a former student, he tried to get in to see his old room in Haygood.

Tues., Oct. 16—Marilyn Miller finds out what she should have found out when she was 16.

Thurs., Oct. 18—Street lights are shining brightly along the road by Seney. It seems that too many people are stumbling in the dark.

Fri., Oct. 19—Webb Garrison’s voice is the first sound heard before entering the cafeteria. It becomes louder when a girl comes by. Seems he’s doing more than selling annuals.

Sat., Oct. 20—Dorm Proctors hold enjoyable banquet at Porterdale Hotel. “W. Sour” Brisendine’s secret about last spring holidays “fiesta” at St. Simon’s gets out. Circle K has dance, success of which can be credited to the Bottom of Dowman boys who put life into it.

Sun., Oct. 21—A typical lazy Sunday. Dian C. seen singing “I’m in Love with a Wonderful Guy” to the phone booth.

Mon., Oct. 22—Tom Murrell displays lousy aim when throwing rolls in the cafeteria. Circle K members tapped in chapel—Connie Tate-Sweetheart. Gene keeps saying he isn’t Mr. Cool.

Tues., Oct. 23—World Peace threatened today. All 1A boys on alert. Students are carrying around radios. Haygood takes cold, clear outlook, and puts situation under control with a prayer.

Wed., Oct. 24—Profs encouraging students to study harder to lessen tension of war. Gail Rodgers found her bed full of coat hangers and Janet Adams was shortsheeted as a result of another war.

Thurs., Oct. 25—The poker games at the Laundramat have got to stop. Bill Cooper found out the hard way that too much soap in the washing machine can cause a scene.
Fri., Oct. 26—Kay Wakefield announces that going to the Drive-in is a little too bourgeois for her lofty taste. She doesn't like to associate with the "middle-class masses." Makes you want to cry, doesn't it?

Sat., Oct. 27—Jay Marshall shaves off his beard and sends it to Lynn M. Is this a new society's token of love?

Sun., Oct. 28—Plans begin for Halloween. In the distance is resounding the famed words of W. A. Candler—"There should be fewer box parties at the theaters and more family altars in the home."

Mon., Oct. 29—Mid-Terms!!!!!!

Tues., Oct. 30—Cliff Mabray qualified for Ripley's "Believe it or not."

"Miss Greene, please refrain from playing "Hot Nuts" in the parlor."

Thurs., Nov. 1—Dooley's Dolls poster announces dance for Nov. 25; discovers that is Thanksgiving; changes to the 17; then 10; and finally 3. Girls decide not to buy flowers for boys.

Fri., Nov. 2—Babs and Billy R., what is that about going to Atlanta with Mr. England??

Sat., Nov. 3—Dooley's Dolls Dance.

Sun., Nov. 4—Monsoon season in full force as another wet Sunday rolls around.

Mon., Nov. 5—Russell Avery goes for 30 minutes without talking. He was asleep!!

Tues., Nov. 6—Mr. Elizer becomes embarrassed as he pulls down his handy-dandy graph maker and discovers the playmate of the month attached to it.

Wed., Nov. 7—Billy R. is asking for a dictionary for Christmas. What was the word that Charles B. told you to look up.

Thurs., Nov. 8—All of "D" section gathered in the halls with the lights out and rocked to the rhythms of Erotica.

Fri., Nov. 9—Mary Louise Sacket decides she is keeping immoral company; she must not let her surroundings taint her.

Sat., Nov. 10—Girls begin to panic as Fall Formal looms a week away . . . I'm writing a new book, "101 Ways to Con a Boy into going to a Dance."

Mon., Nov. 12—Hunter now on No. 4 as No. 3 thing of the past . . . Robert still going strong.

Tues., Nov. 13—W.H.A. decides chorus director has "most impressive" voice.

Thurs., Nov. 15—I begin to prepare for my visit at the Fall Formal. There'll be a few surprises.

Fri., Nov. 16—Everything ready for guests and especially my arrival. Committees have done wonderful job in preparation and deserve to be commended. Boys especially prepare for the weekend by avoiding the tea and recommending water to their dates.

Sat., Nov. 17—Campus goes wild as Tech beats Alabama 7-6. Stahlworth quickly ceases to gloat. Everybody here for dance—time 7:30—and no band yet. Frank starts crying. 7:50—Frank now bawling. 7:58—"The Tricks" arrive.

Sun., Nov. 18—All guests now leaving. Mrs. Pannell starts trying to collect for meals.

Mon., Nov. 19—If anyone needs a poem written for humanities, contact Marilyn White or David Wallace. They're becoming experts on love poems.

"Ah, a few moments of quiet meditation will bring my catharsis."

"Actually I think Nietzsche is rather proletarian."

"Even though it is rather revolting I rather liked his Thus Spake—-

"So charmed Dr. Guillebeau that you agree."

Wed., Nov. 21—Holidays Begin!

Sun., Nov. 25—Miss Haley changed to Mrs. Wages in July, but she announces it today. Mr. Major seemed embarrassed, since he had been dating her. Mrs. Pannell continues to try to collect for meals.

Mon., Nov. 26—War stories slacken off as nobody believes them anyway. Just wait till Christmas. Dr. Michael McDowell performs for Oxford Concert Series. Trammell and Murrell arrive an hour early to be sure of the best seats.

Wed., Nov. 28—Annette Brown must love attention. Why else would she hit her head on her bed, causing a minor concussion?

Thurs., Nov. 29—Bess has a problem of taking advantage of talking in her sleep and telling her dreams. She dreamed that she, R.H., and another friend were in a chemical equation. Who was the third person added to balance the equation, Bess?

Fri., Nov. 30—Annual staff begins to sweat first deadline. Annuals go on sale for "absolutely the last time at $4."

Sun., Dec. 2—"Baby-Dave" borrows Otis' VWwagon for a date. Larry Denny's McDonough girl phones up and finds that he has a date. Larry begins to worry.

Mon., Dec. 3—More chapel cuts taken as quarter gets close to an end. Glad I don't have to go to chapel. The purport of ΣΤΣ is to stimulate interest in world affairs. Eligible are those students having a B average in social studies; however, there has been a slight drop in the membership due to oriental influence. In virtue of its concern in national and international problems ΣΤΣ has presented a varied program of noted speakers who have come to get a free meal.
Tues., Dec. 4—One of the new wardens in the women’s prison is Stephen, alias Stevie Cullins. Half of the girls on third floor A-section are in solitary confinement. Stephen thinks they need to be in a padded cell.

Wed., Dec. 5—Alice Marie had problems and called friends in to sit and talk them over. Loud explosions were heard repeatedly. Did you solve your problems girls?

Thurs., Dec. 6—Chung gets mildly aggravated at Portner’s refusal to turn in a term paper. The E.A.O. chorus resounds with palpitation vocal chords . . . which invokes the wrath of Dr. Mann.

Sat., Dec. 8—First weekend I can think of the “Smoke” has not visited “old home” to attempt to call all 3 loves into one big boundary—right Zoe, Babs, and Carol?

Sun., Dec. 9—Amazingly large church attendance today. Praying for grades, maybe?

Mon., Dec. 10—Mrs. Pannell still trying to collect for Fall Formal meals. I’m surprised they don’t pay the students the standard guinea pig fee.

Tues., Dec. 11—Ricky Pooré sets all time E.A.O. record by completing his P.E. final in 7½ min. The advent of the collector is attributed to Budha. RAH Budha! It is a magazine?? . . . there’s a hint of sublimation in the articles therein. In essence it is a high-toned magazine, written for high-toned intellectuals. The staff is composed of carefully selected help.

Fri., Dec. 14—Exams over. Those remaining over until Sat. morning see fit to celebrate.

Sat., Dec. 15—Hangover alley!

Wed., Jan. 2—All arrive back with exception of 36 who decide to forego their E.A.O. “family life” for a quarter due to friendly persuasion from registrar’s office.

Thurs., Jan. 3—Burton Reifler declares that the titles of Miss Memory and Hall of Fame go on sale Monday, Jan. 7, to the highest bidder.

Fri., Jan. 4—Ken and Frank decide to hitch-hike into Atlanta for three hours. Total hitch-hiking time, 14 hours. Cooper, Bookie, Campbell, Fast Eddie all have large laff.

Sat., Jan. 5—Moonlit was quite crowded tonight. I heard Wally and Donna singing “Long time no see” as they went in.

Sun., Jan. 6—Jay Marshall always calls late, but tonight he finally got a date, didn’t he, Judy?

Mon., Jan. 7—(Censored) Mrs. Shannon wore her purple capri pants today. Happy ate four snack bar hamburgers and survived to tell about it. Judy V.B. could not “peel” in lab, because Bob Yanno thought it would wreck her image.

Tues., Jan. 8—Judge Parker sleep-walked to his 8:00 class. Basketball practice begins and where’s Bonnie Green?

Fri., Jan. 11—Reward is offered for any information on "Know it all" Norton. See Gordon Burnett. Connie Tate graces annual meeting most naturally without Max Factor camouflage.

Sat., Jan. 12—Judy Wukas had a date with Bill Smith and came back with a black eye.

Sun., Jan. 13—Another cold, miserable weekend. Karen Buhler, unnerved from it all, makes her weekly connection with B. This could run into money!

Mon., Jan. 14—Psychology class almost has a riot as Dr. Hoffman has them conduct practical experiments in motivation.

Tues., Jan. 15—Emmet Young reached in his desk for a book and grabbed a leg by mistake. A-section reverberates as B.G. evokes sounds of Martin Denny interrupted by a few words from P.H.

Wed., Jan. 16—Susie and GiGi wake up to find their cars gone. Carol's car should be missing soon, too. You know how Carol and GiGi are. Have to do everything the other one does.

Thurs., Jan. 17—Snack bar broken into. Fearless Dewey fires two shots and hollers for the thief to come back. What strategy!

Fri., Jan. 18—My dolls had a swinging dance tonight. Everyone tried to learn the "Tennessee Wiggle."

Sat., Jan. 19—Charles Baldwin went to Atlanta and had what for a date?

Sun., Jan. 20—More rain!

Mon., Jan. 21—John Ertel recovers from his dip in the fishpond. Dean Eady kills an hour of chapel time with "Boots, boots, boots." ... Bill Perry reads my letter, from which I'll repeat for posterity here: The Greedy Award goes to Tom Murrell and Bill Trammel to put on their T.V. set. The Esquire Award goes to Robert Califf for his new developments in the world of men's fashions. The Henry Mann Award goes to Gene Parker for "grossing-off" the most girls in the shortest period of time in the history of Emory-at-Oxford.

Thurs., Jan. 24—Boys fight bitter cold to eat in Haygood, as if they had a choice.

Mon., Jan. 28—Marty swears in Bio. 102 that Florida lobster don't have claws to amusement of entire class.

Thurs., Jan. 31—Circle K has meeting concerning beauty contest, and Judge Chung declares he will vote "as the spirit moves him."

Fri., Feb. 1—I made my annual appearance at the Military Ball to congratulate the new officers. Hope the Yannos' enjoyed the beer cans.

Sun., Feb. 3—Pep Melton has a new leash around his neck, doesn't he Louisa—Although everyone knows his bark is worse than his bite.

And a time was had by all.
Mon., Feb. 4—Bio. 102 mid-term is “shaft” and Hellcat discovers lab demonstrations missing—“spas” hits Hellcat. Gordon and Teddy Bear find mutual attraction for one another.

Thurs., Feb. 7—The warm weather is bad for studying. Practice for beauty contest held tonight. Bill Hunter and Robert R. checked for speed that each girl walked.

The first thing you rats must know is that we use outhouses here—to work!!

Fri., Feb. 8—Beauty contest held tonight. Marilyn Miller was crowned “Miss EAO” and Kathy Golden and Anne Thompson were runners up. Gardinia Smackemouth finished a well-deserved fifteenth.

Sat., Feb. 9—Dull day!!

Sun., Feb. 10—“The moment the Sunday School attains perfection, it will begin to decay, and out of its disintegration will come forth a fairer and more efficient enterprise” W. A. Candler. Here we are!!

Mon., Feb. 11—Julian “Boss Tweed” Martin astounds campus with a 49 out of a possible 50 on a Physics 102 test. As if this weren’t enough, Bill Hunter makes a 66 on a Chem. test. Stock market drops 10 points.

Tues., Feb. 12—The “Dawg” calls Dowman dorm meeting at 11:40 P.M. to inform boys a rock has been thrown through Henry Carrier’s room.

Thurs., Feb. 14—Marie and Billie sing "Happy Valentine's Day to You" to boys walking to 8:00 classes.

Fri., Feb. 15—Jeff Beavers, "Big Al" Yanno, and Patti Farr go to Atlanta for the afternoon and spend most of the time getting Beavers' car back after the inconsiderate Atlanta Police impound it.

Mon., Feb. 18—One of the best things about this school used to be that you could wear what you wanted. The new cafeteria restrictions are absurd.

Wed., Feb. 20—Norton and Ausmus sell tickets to tomorrow night's concert in any possible way. If you've got a quarter, you're going to wind up with a ticket.

Thurs., Feb. 21—25c was a little to pay for the Emory Quartet—it was excellent.

Fri., Feb. 22—Steak supper (Complete with floor show) tonight in honor of Washington's birthday. Needless to say, dining hall manages to ruin steaks disguised as chickens.

Mon., Feb. 25—The death of retired Prof. Brown saddens the campus. I personally have always respected and admired him.

Okay, who swallowed the dice??

Tues., Feb. 26—Meals begin to become unbearable as Winter quarter and budget grow shorter.

Fri., Mar. 1—I arrive on campus; and succeed very well in embarrassing many people. Hope Mary Louise didn't mind the “vacancy” sign I made her wear. I don't think Mr. Chung believed I was for real. He’ll learn.

Sat., Mar. 2—My birthday! Everyone seemed to have a great time. I announced Gordon Burnett and Carol Cling- scales as my best buddy and best girl.

Sun., Mar. 3—Deadline for the 1963 Memory and end of my diary for this year. Hope you enjoyed it, and took it in good fun as it was intended! ! !

Dedicated to

PROFESSOR DAN C. MOORE
During his college career, a student meets a few instructors who will leave on him a lifelong impression. Such a man is Mr. Moore. His keen explanations, his quick wit, his seemingly endless wealth of knowledge, even outside his chosen field of physics, his warm smile, and his complete willingness to help in any possible way those who study under him; these qualities combine to inspire his students year after year. With sincere respect and deep appreciation, we dedicate the 1963 Memory to Professor Moore.

The Religious Activities Council is the coordinating element of the campus religious organizations. It is made up of students and faculty who strive to keep the students aware that religion is an integral part of college life. The officers elected by popular student vote, along with the representatives of the various campus religious organizations and the faculty members, make up the council. The main project is Religious Emphasis Week in Fall Quarter. Various chapels are presented throughout the year. This year the R.A.C. brought the Bishop Players to Oxford to present “Cry, Beloved Country.”

Darts inspired some of our more athletic friends.

Quick—send out some more men to help with Al.

Two seconds, five o'clock—

Yawl never hit it to me.

Which Newton does he think he is, the coach or Sir Isaac?

What are we going to do next week, Mr. Wizard?

The Great Pumpkin strikes again!

HM-M-M, it's so good.
CLASSES

A detail of the central terrace of Vigeland Park representing the eternal struggle of humanity to reach the top. All the sculpture is the work of Gustav Vigeland.
