When we take a closer look at Oxford College, we see more than just the mother school of Emory University. We see a closer look at Oxford students, professors, and staff. The lives of students throughout the year in and out of the classroom are captured. The memories of retiring staff and students moving onto Emory are remembered.

While students and teachers may come and go, Oxford's history, traditions, and buildings remain a legacy. As tradition, we began our annual convocation ceremony with the sophomores marching in and closed it with the incoming students signing the Oxford book. Along with our regular fall formal and spring formal, Oxford also had a homecoming week.

This year's theme of reconciliation commenced with the addition of the new Hugh and Gena Tarbutton Performing Arts Center and the west wing to Haygood as a part of Oxford's campus. The old gym was under renovation, and the campus was turned into a walking campus. Later in the year, our lost history was restored with the Dream Deferred exhibit of African American contributions to our school.

A closer look at Oxford College is more than just a blurry picture in our minds when we leave here, but every focal point that we miss and treasure as memories.

The sophomore class lines up for the Convocation ceremony.

Everything happens for a reason and for every reason there is a wrong season...

Dedicated to the loving memory of our brother, Kenneth Nnambí Ekperi, also known as Hercules.
— The Knights of Oxford
To my nizzle, it's crazy to think that you're gone so soon, but I'll never forget all the fun times that we had whether it was chillin', watchin' a movie, or getting something to eat. I hope you're having fun up there and I'll see you when I get there.

Much love,
De'Keya

Think before your act on your decision:
Its easy to think about yourself before making a decision — The hard part is thinking about others who would be affected by your decision or actions.

Well, what can I say? These two years at Oxford just blew by! It seems just yesterday we all arrived on campus. I'm really glad I had the opportunity to become really close to each and every one of you, and make life-long memories. I hope we all remain close in years to come. To the class of 2001, it has been great. thanks for all the memories and good luck! To all my freshman dawgs, class of 2002... good luck and study hard... enjoy your last years at Oxford and make it memorable.
— Kajel

To all my friends.....
Some of you have been a part of my life for the past two years. Others of you have just recently, very recently, become dear to me. I know that I had some disagreements with some of you, and I want those of you to know that I am sorry for any heartache I caused. I look forward to having all of you in my life for many years to come. I wish you all the very best of luck, and regardless of where we all end up, please know that you will always be in my thoughts.
— Farrah

wow... two years go by so fast. well, only got a hundred words so here goes:
shawty- thanks for everything. we've been thru a lot together, lookin forward to more.
puhritsee poo- we the “ituses”.... we can’t do that in the DUC!!
Kaji Bhen- hahha.. i dunno... we stuck fo life jules- remember “i love you” quintus- don’t be such a JAP annie banannie: “i’m mad at you about that”
shortEE!! it’s all kosher in margaritaville
Esss- i’m gonna miss you...hard on-8769 hehehe
Liz- you so crazy elijahbet- “you look the same!!!”
O Phi- you know i’m comin back...y’all better watch out...cause y’all “don’t know” to the freshman i care bout (you know who you are)- you are the ones that make it hard to leave. keep it real here at OC...i’ll see y’all again.

Dedicated to our memories of the Knights of Oxford.

Apollo, Doc Holiday, Romeo, Discus, Cujo, and Nandita Khanna.
Dear Amanda, Jessica, Maiuri, and Stephanie,

You are the greatest people in the world and I can't tell you how much you mean to me. Oxford has been a great experience for all of us and I would not change a thing. I came here completely alone but I am leaving with some of the greatest friends in the world. Whether it is late nights in the Ox (MOO!!!), late night discussions (no experience required), Tavern parties (with Robbie of course), or weekend dinners out, it has all been a blast because of you. Thank you for being the wonderful people that you are and I can't wait to see what new and exciting things are ahead of us in the years to come.

Love Always,
Jessie

To all my friends, I am going to miss all of you very much. Remember though, moving on does not mean forgetting about those who gave us a little bit of sunshine. Bottom Stone, you were the best hall ever. Last, but not least: I hope the 7 wonders of the world can surpass the test of time and remain perplexing to all.

— Karen Chocho

To: Karen, Delayee, Doua, Rup, Vinita, Megan, and Angela
Well, it has been a nice two years. You guys are great friends and I am so glad that God put you in my life. You guys are truly some of the many blessings that I treasure with all of my heart. Not only are you a constant reminder that there are other people out there in the world who are not superficial and judgmental, but you help fill my life with perpetual laughter. You guys really crack me up with the things you do and/or say because sometimes we just don't make any sense. There are so many hilarious memories that come to mind when I think about you. Okay, now that I've said all of the cheesy stuff, it's time for me to return to my usual self. As we move on, I would like to leave you guys with a couple of quotes. You should know the events they refer to.

— "You need to stop drinking that plyer hater juice."
— "Care Bear Stare."
— "Hey, I saw your wife the other day, and she's uglyyyyy... Yeah, but she sure can cook."
— "Hi, this message is for Cita."
— "That banana!"
— "That's personification... Ode to ————."
— "You're never in your room when I call... Oh I'm always busy."
— "Double T's"
— "I had the worst 'neck' cramp today."
— "Let's have a grilled cheese night."
— "If you don't get it, you should... yaaaaaaah... Do you know where to go?"

That's all I have for now, but I'm sure we'll have many quotes next year. Love ya!

Peace and blessings,
Terrassa

To the "bestest" friend anyone could ever have: Natasha Bell

"A friend is someone who knows that song in your heart and can sing it back to you when you have forgotten the words." —unknown

I want you to know that our friendship is one of the most precious treasures I have ever had. I have enjoyed every moment we have shared. Thanks for being there for me when I have most needed you and for being such a great encouragement. I hope you continue to know the songs in my heart and that you are about to sing them back when I have forgotten the words. I promise I will do the same. Te quieres mucho Chiquita.

Your friend,
Karla I. Caraballo

To all my friends, you know who you are.
Thank you so much for our friendship and all the 06 memories
That we've unhesitatingly carry with us to Emory.
Thanks for the laughter, the hugs, the smiles, and the tears.
Not seeing you as often is one of my biggest fears.
As we split up to go separate ways,
Just remember the good old 06 days.
You have made a difference, claimed a spot in my heart.
Keep the memories with you because those are the things that will keep us together in spirit, regardless of how physically far apart.
I love you all.
— Julie Harris
To Misti- Thank you for being such a great friend. My life is better because I know you. I really can’t even begin to tell you how much our friendship means to me. You are a wonderful, smart, fun person. I am looking forward to two more fabulous years at Emory.
— Ruv roo, Jenny

To my great friends:
— Misty DiLillo: There is just no word to describe how wonderful you are and we are so much loved.
— Misty Heaton… You will always be our first… we have to visit each other.
— To all, whoever remembers… we are the ones that are great together… I love you both and all and I am so glad to do the things that we do together.
— Aung and Zaha… I will miss you and your best… we will be back together.
— And to everyone… thank you for being in my life.
— Michelle Ewence… you have been here from the beginning to the end.”
— Jessi… you can’t imagine how much you mean to me. Please come and visit soon.
— God bless my other friend’s Layer: Alex

I want to thank everyone who has made my time here so special and unforgettable. Your love and kindness makes everyday a little brighter and better. Jessie and Stephanie: you two have given me the kind of friendship that is always faithful and unconditional. I know I can always come to you to share joys, heartaches, or embarrassments. Thank you so much.
Amanda B: thanks for being such a great roommate. You are the best.
Matt and Joel: My roomy buddies… Thank you for all the laughs and good times. You guys have definitely given me a means to celebrate through the good and the bad.
PAC: We did our best, and I think it was a great success. Charlie and Andrew- that you for re-inspiring me creative side; you have added a little spice to my life and how I love it.
Group 3: We went through something together that is hard for others to understand, but which as forever changed my view of the world and how I approach it. Thank you. There are so many people who have been such an important influence on my life here, and you love warms the depths of my soul. I love and cherish you always!

Dear: ‘my luck’ though we were cursed with bad luck, i lucked out when i got u as a roommate, u have complemented my life in a way that nobody else could have, and that is why i couldn’t have picked anyone else better to spend these past two years with, contact or no contact, i will always be here for u. Wanny: ‘my coffee buddy and my confidant through everything, there are no words for how much i mean to me.
Idol: ‘my other half,’ thanks for always being my support, my confidence, my always buddy, and my OGC sister.
You: ‘my driver,’ who always made me strive to be my best and who is never afraid of learning new things, even with no common sense, i know that you’ll succeed in everything u do and go far in life, as for next year, u better not forget about me with all ur new known friends.
Teresa: ‘my spirit,’ that made every day a little brighter.
Karena: ‘my reason,’ who always gives me faith.
Rupi: ‘my hope,’ remembers to always live for u.
Vani: ‘my smile and strength,’ never give up on anything.
Simone: ‘my little sister,’ i believe in u, anytime u need me, i’ll be there.
Monica: ‘my opposition but a true friend.’
Kasey: ‘my stalkee.’
Joe: ‘my insightful golf-pro buddy.’
MJ: ‘my solace.’

Everyone else, don’t think i forgot u, but words are always a limit when expressing friendship, thank u all, teachers and friends, for being a part of my life and making me the person that i am today, i love u and wish u all the happiness that life brings.

Drew

Are you a concert freak?

Do you attend too many concerts? Take this short quiz to find out.

1. Is your entire wardrobe made up of concert T-shirts? (Bonus points if you wear your concert T-shirt to school the day after the concert.)
2. Does the salesperson at the ticket counter know your first name?
3. Do you have a guitar pick or drumstick collection?
4. Do you play air guitar?
5. Is there a constant ringing in your head?
6. Have you ever been to a "Reunion" tour concert? (Bonus points if the band is older than your parents.)
7. Do you send the concert in time to see the opening act?
8. Do you sneak down to the front row at every concert?
9. Have you ever been burned by pyrotechnics from a concert?
10. Have you ever missed school to stand in line for tickets?

TOTAL - Score your points. Each "yes" equals one point.
7-10: You are a concert addict. Get help before it's too late.
4-6: Not bad. You'll survive.
1-3: Are you alive? When you go to a concert, do you have fun?
